

Society for the Advancement of Socio-Economics

Mini-conference application form

DEADLINE: 20 October 2021

This form and any supporting documents should be sent to saseexecutive@sase.org.

1. Proposed mini-conference title:

2. Organizers:

Full name, affiliation, email of each organizer

3. Have you organized this mini-conference before? If so, please indicate when and give some information about the number of sessions organized and content. If this year's proposal differs from past years, please indicate how it is different.

4. Please confirm that you have consulted the list of extant SASE networks (www.sase.org/networks)

One of our goals in welcoming mini-conferences is to bring to the fore issues that are not covered by existing networks.

5. List of possible participants (not compulsory):

Any individuals, groups, departments, centers, or allied institutions that actively support this proposal should be noted here. You may answer on an attached document rather than in the space below if preferable.

6. Would you like to require full papers from your participants (deadline would be 15 June 2022)?

YES NO

Any further stipulations (paper length, etc.):

7. Any additional information:

Please feel free to add any information you would like to communicate. You may answer on an attached document rather than in the space below if preferable.

8. Proposed mini-conference topic description:

Please append a 1-2 page description of the proposed topic for your mini-conference. Please include information on how your proposal is linked to the theme of this year's conference ("Fractious Connections: Anarchy, Activism, Coordination, and Control"), and/or how it brings new or underrepresented topics to the conference. Note that special consideration will be given to proposals that cover areas currently underrepresented in SASE, notably race and ethnicity, migration, economic history, and heterodox economics – as well as submissions that provide a global perspective.

Please take note of SASE's diversity statement:

SASE is committed to providing a safe and welcoming environment for all members and event participants, irrespective of, for example, race, color, ethnicity, ancestry, national origin, language, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, marital status, religion, disability, veteran status, or socio-economic status. Our association exists for the purposes of scholarly, educational, and professional exchange; much of the richness and vitality of this exchange is owed to SASE's diverse membership and spirit of inclusiveness. We provide inclusionary events such as the Women and Gender (WAG) Forum, conference fees are based on socio-economic status, we are dedicated to a Code of Conduct, and we consider diversity in committees and convener teams.

Discrimination and harassment of colleagues, students, or other participants in SASE events undermines shared principles of equity, free inquiry, and free expression – and is considered by SASE to be a serious form of professional misconduct.

Please send this form and your proposed topic description to SASE Executive Director Annelies Fryberger, saseexecutive@sase.org. You will receive confirmation of receipt, and a decision should be reached by mid-November 2021.
